Cleveland By Night Episode 10: "Sabbatically Yours"

Player(s) of the Night: Awarded to All Players

Game Date: Saturday June 14, 2025

Elysium: Studio 1313

6/14/25- Juliana continues to build her court and essentially her legacy as she learns more about Cleveland and it's inhabitants. Amelia has fled the city after her unbound retainer Gianna was put in danger. The pressures of giving up the Wrack and Pain and to transition to lead Studio 1313 proving to be too much for the unlife she wants to pursue. Aizere, one of the Studio's employees has stepped up to the plate, and has continued to pursue David's goals as well as assist the new Prince. Paul the Keeper, was revealed to have had his unlife brutally ended and his remains deliberately discarded in a dumpster. Danger looms as the group realizes that the Savannites of the Famarilla might be the true targets of the Sabbat attacking Cleveland as John's trauma is also revealed to have been caused by the woman they met, and he romanced in Whytheville on their way to Ohio. The delivery of a cake only stirs their worry further as the message upon it's frosted top states "You're Welcome, Prince Juliana".

Cleveland By Night Episode 10.5 (Garou/Hunter): "Added To The Family Chat"

Player(s) of the Night: Awarded to All Players

Game Date: Saturday June 28, 2025

After Hours: Mojitoville

6/28/25- The Hunters and the Garou meet some of the area leaders and experts in their 'fields'. A family reunion and many weird introductions later the group reconvenes to go on their first real mission together, to recover some books within a Sabbat Cultist's temple and bring them back for review. The lines between good and evil may be blurry in Cleveland, but this place was an obvious step well beyond. Mutated and modified creatures, flesh and blood home décor, and a lone Cultist opened many eyes as the group pursued knowledge, renown and the Cleveland Way. Through cunning and coordination the group succeeded in their mission before heading out for celebratory beverages... But will it be enough for the Spirits to acknowledge the new pack and it's members?
